

Okaloosa County News Release

March 25, 2016

Kathy Newby, 850.651.7515, knewby@co.okaloosa.fl.us

NR16-22

Photo Caption: Elks Presentation: Paramedic Dana Marlow, left, receives Outstanding Community Service Award from Elks Acting Exalted Ruler Julie Biadeau.

Paramedic Dana Marlow is congratulated by EMS Chief Tracey Vause, Okaloosa County Public Safety.

Paramedic Recognized by Twin Cities Elks Lodge

Twin Cities Elks Lodge has recognized Paramedic Dana Marlow, Okaloosa County EMS for Outstanding Community Service. Acting Exalted Ruler Julie Biladeau presented Marlow with the award at the Elks Club Annual Awards Dinner. “I am equally proud that Ms. Marlow is being recognized this year for her efforts by such an outstanding community based organization as the Twin Cities Elks Lodge,” stated Public Safety Director Alvin Henderson, Okaloosa County.

Dana Marlow has worked for Okaloosa County Emergency Medical Services (EMS) for 13 years. She has been presented with many performance awards by EMS as well, for her service to the residents and visitors of Okaloosa County. Just two shifts into her career, Dana was tasked with facilitating a last resort shelter during Hurricane Ivan. She expertly accomplished this task, continues to teach others in her field when not on calls and serves her community through various outreach activities. “She spent time building the Beach Safety Division early on, continues to be a self-starter and we enthusiastically endorse this recognition for Dana as an outstanding public servant,” added EMS Chief Tracey Vause.

Elks invest in their communities through programs geared to help children, as well as honor veterans and emergency responders.

Call Okaloosa County Public Safety, 850-651-7150, visit www.okaloosafl.com or download the Ready Okaloosa App for up-to-date public safety information.

###