Pinwheels for Prevention Placed at the Okaloosa County Administration Building to Raise Awareness About Child Abuse Prevention

Okaloosa County Commissioners Kelly Windes and Carolyn Ketchel were on hand for the placement of 200 pinwheels by the Emerald Coast Exchange Club and the Fort Walton Beach Women's Club. Pinwheels can be seen in the Patriot Garden at the Okaloosa County Administration Building.

The "Pinwheels for Prevention" Program campaign was kicked off by Florida's First Lady Ann Scott earlier this month. "Pinwheels for Prevention" promotes healthy, happy childhoods for all children. More than 70,000 blue and silver pinwheels are expected to be planted across Florida in conjunction with National Child Abuse Prevention Month observances in April.
