An Election Year Exhibit at Heritage Museum Discussed on WFTW 1260 Exhibit Features Voting Equipment & Documents Dating to 1917

There is another way to teach children the importance of voting, in addition to voting this election year – you can visit the Heritage Museum of Northwest Florida and see voting history unfold before your eyes. Gina Marini will discuss the details on Thursday, August 16, on WFTW Talk Radio 1260 with host Ken Walsh. Tune in at 8 a.m. and call 850-664-1260, with questions on Thursday's radio show.

The Heritage Museum of Northwest Florida is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults, $4 for seniors and military, $3 for children, and children under age 4 are free. Children receive a FREE American Flag, compliments of ERA American Realty, as well as a McDonald's coupon.
