OKALOOSA COUNTY SALTWATER BEACH MONITORING RESULTS for July 15, 2013

The Florida Department of Health in Okaloosa County conducts weekly saltwater beach water quality monitoring at 13 sites through the Healthy Beaches Monitoring Program. The water samples are analyzed for enteric bacteria (enterococci) that normally inhabit the intestinal tract of humans and animals and which may cause human disease, infections, or rashes. The presence of enteric bacteria is an indication of fecal pollution, which may come from stormwater runoff, pets and wildlife, and human sewage.

Site	Name	City	Enterococci	Water Quality
SP-1	Liza Jackson Park	Ft. Walton Beach	Fail	Poor
SP-2	Garniers Park	Ft. Walton Beach	Fail	Poor
SP-3	Marler Park	Okaloosa Island	Pass	*Good
SP-4	Wayside Park	Okaloosa Island	Pass	Moderate
SP-5	Poquito Park	Shalimar	Pass	Moderate
SP-6	Gulf Islands National Seashore	Okaloosa Island	Fail	Poor

SP-11	James Lee Park	Destin	Pass	Moderate

The following water quality classifications are used by the Florida Department of Health and are based upon the United States Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA's) recommended standard for enterococci. The classification standard is as follows:

GOOD:	0 – 35 colony forming units (CFU) per 100 milliliters (ml) of marine water
MODERATE:	36 – 104 CFU per 100 ml of marine water
POOR	≥ 105 CFU per 100 ml of marine water.

Advisories based on Healthy Beaches water quality testing have been issued for Garniers Park and Liza Jackson Park of Fort Walton Beach, and Gulf Islands National Seashore of Okaloosa Island based on the enterococci standards. These beaches should be considered a potential health risk to the bathing public.

Please be advised that advisories issued due to recent sewer spills for Liza Jackson Park in Fort Walton Beach, Marler Park on Okaloosa Island, Gulf Islands National Seashore on Okaloosa Island are still in effect. We are advising the public not to enter the water and/or use water or jet skis or boat in waters from Liza Jackson Park in Fort Walton Beach to Gulf Islands National Seashore on Okaloosa Island.
